

*Brigid your cloak embraces us through space and time.
Within its shelter may we bring comfort and healing to the suffering.
Within its strength may we bring
justice to the oppressed.
Within its folds may we treasure the fragile web of life
on Earth, our common home.
Within its warp and weft may we live together
in peace and generosity
as your true daughters.*
