

Two decades of advocacy brings success

ACRATH has just finished its 19th annual advocacy campaign week at Parliament House in Canberra, confident that key 'asks' are being considered by government, including further work on the right of any victim of modern slavery to access compensation for the crime that was committed against them in Australia.

Read more

Christine Carolan resigns as ACRATH's NEO

Christine has worked with and been committed to ACRATH over 19 years and, after 10 years in the role of National Executive Officer has resigned, effective December 2024. It will mark the end of a significant era in human trafficking work in Australia, but will also signal a new phase for the organisation. Her resignation comes as ACRATH prepares to mark 20 years.

Read more

ACRATH advocacy in action

"I was amazed that after we raised an issue of concern to us, we went to the next day's meeting and found that our issues had already been passed on, and Departmental Officers and Ministerial advisors were already looking for solutions." This was a reflection from one of the ACRATH advocacy team who spent last week in Canberra seeking solutions to issues facing victim/survivors of human trafficking.

More reflections and pictures from the week in Canberra

Celebrate 20 Years of ACRATH with Our Exclusive Anniversary Calendar

We are excited to announce that the much-loved ACRATH calendar is now available for order. This year's edition is particularly special as we celebrate 20 years of ACRATH in 2025.

Since its inception, the ACRATH calendar has become a welcome addition to offices, homes, tea rooms, and classrooms alike. This commemorative edition honours our history and significant milestones.

Read more

ORDER YOUR CALENDAR

Take action in September

ACRATH supports the work of many like-minded organisations both in Australia and globally. Many produce resources that can be used in a variety of settings and some have campaigns underway. Our newsletter regularly includes this page, encouraging people to find out more and consider becoming involved in actions and advocacy.

Read more

"Red flags within the supply chain... we can learn to recognise them in our everyday life."

Sr Noelene Simmons sm, ACRATH's Communications and Advocacy Specialist
listen for more: RESEARCH PODCAST

By donating to ACRATH you can help in the fight against human trafficking and slavery in Australia and beyond.

DONATE