

Did you know?

- 38% of women have experienced online violence and 85% have witnessed digital violence against others.
 - Misinformation and defamation are the most prevalent forms of online violence against women. 67% of women and girls who have experienced digital violence reported this tactic.
 - 90 – 95% of all online deepfakes are non-consensual pornographic images with around 90 per cent of these depicting women.
 - 73% of women journalists reported experiencing online violence.
-
- Fewer than 40% of countries have laws protecting women from cyber harassment or cyber stalking. This leaves 44% of the world's women and girls – 1.8 billion – without access to legal protection.

Source: United Nations website